

Intact Insurance launches Canada's first commercial auto quick quote tool

TORONTO, Dec. 1, 2017 /CNW/ - Intact Insurance has launched an online quick quote tool that will provide small businesses with commercial auto insurance quotes in just a few clicks. The online tool is currently available in Quebec and will be rolled out across Canada over the next year. Backed by an extensive network of brokers, Intact Insurance is the first to offer this technology to customers.

Business owners looking to insure one vehicle and one driver can quickly get quotes on a computer, tablet or mobile phone, leaving them more time to focus on their business. In addition, they can get advice and support from brokers, who have in-depth knowledge of what these types of businesses need. Many brokers are themselves owners or partners in small firms.

"Small and medium-sized companies are more and more interested in integrating new technologies throughout their businesses, especially for their insurance needs. The customer experience is at the centre of everything we do, and we know that customers will appreciate the effortless quick quote process and the time savings it provides. We are always thinking ahead and exploring ways to leverage technology to make it easier for customers and businesses. When you add the expertise of our brokers this is a winning combination," says Alain Lessard, Senior Vice President, Commercial Lines for Intact Insurance.

Simple, quick and user-friendly

To access this innovative tool, customers simply need to click on the Business tab on www.intact.ca, click on the quick quote button, answer a few questions and, in just minutes, they will receive a quote with the premium amount. Customers will then be invited to review and finalize the transaction with the help of a broker, by simply calling the number on the screen.
